

MAURIZIO QUAGLIUOLO

Secretary-General of HERITY International, professor of Communication, Technology and Management of Cultural Heritage at Sapienza University of Rome.

Archaeologist, Museologist and Manager of Cultural Sites with a 39 years of experience, Master's degree in Archaeology at Sapienza University of Rome, Master's degree Post lauream in Management of Cultural Heritage at the Complutense University in Madrid, EC in Artificial Intelligence Implications for Business Strategy at MIT – Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

He coordinated 950 projects in 34 years in Italy and Abroad, participating in the elaboration of documents on invitation by UNESCO, The World Bank, UNEP, UN-WTO, ICCROM, UNDP, OECD.

Also taught at the Universities Ca' Foscari in Venice, Tor Vergata, IULM and LUISS in Rome, Federico II in Naples, of Amsterdam, Genova, Vilnius, Complutense de Madrid, Federal de Pelotas and of the Vale do Rio Doce in Brazil.

Author of 24 volumes and more than 85 articles on his subjects.